San Diego State University’s primary commitment is to the safety, health and wellbeing of all campus community members including students, staff, faculty and visitors. SDSU is closely following the COVID-19 guidelines set forth by national, state and local public health and government officials as well as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. All in-person testing has been suspended until further notice. SDSU continues to monitor the evolving situation around COVID-19 and will provide updates as soon as they become available.

The Japanese Language Proficiency Test has been temporarily suspended for the summer and fall 2021 semesters. Informal diagnostic examination will be conducted in class on the first day of classes to assess whether students can stay in the class or move up or down from the ones in which they are enrolled.
